Student's Letter (Excerpt):

Hi!

I'm Flavio, I think I am an open guy, with an outgoing personality and the ability to relate with other people.

I'm usually able to talk easily with strangers, and this makes my relationships very strong and sincere.

I'm a sociable person and open to change, I can't wait to leave my home and explore the world that is so big. I'm ready to do new experiences and meet new people to compare cultures and expand my knowledge and personality. I'm sure I'll be the best ambassador of my own country and cook some good pasta for you, expanding also your vision of the world (not only with the pasta of course, we have much more).

My being outgoing also hides a reserved personality, I am very thoughtful and cautious of the environment surrounding me, which helps me to understand the different situations and act consequently. I am precise and clean (but you know, everybody lets it go sometimes).

I already thank you for reading this with the hope these words will make you willing to host me, to have together the best experience we can.

Flavio
