Student's Letter (Excerpt):

Dear American Family,

I am Rukham and I am writing this letter to the family that will host me during my senior year of High School program. The intention is to let the host family know about my characteristics and personality. I am 16 and currently in Grade 12th. My dad is a Government Servant and my mom is a House-Wife. We are seven siblings and living in a big city in Pakistan, that has impacted me in many different ways.

I have learned a lot about life, in this time of my age, which is basically due to the hardships a one faces, living here in a city-life. I can manage to live in any situation and won't complain. As we should learn something, from every life experience.

I am very fond of greenery and natural beauty (which we barely see in our city), watching the sun go down is my favorite part of the day, taking all the negativity of the day along with itself and giving you a very positive feeling.

Giving my best in the school, made me one of the best students of our school, while, Physics and English are my favorite subjects. I am very calm and humble with my classmates and frank with my friends. We do often talk about the movies, music and tech. Plus, I am an animal-lover. My favorite artists out there are Adele, Ed Sheeran and Taylor Swift.

I attend the Church in our area weekly. As a Christian I believe attending the church is very important as it enhances your spiritual growth. I belong to a Christian and conservative family.

Being a part of this exchange program is a big step in my life and will make a deep impact on my life that can even alter my future. Life has lots of turns, but I am focused on my aim, and will work really hard to achieve my goals and will stand independently on my feet.

I hope my host family will be an extension of my home in Pakistan, and treat me as if I am a part of their family. I want to carry along all the memories I will have with them, forever.

Regards,
Rukham.
