Student's Letter (Excerpt):

Dear host family,

Since I had been 10 the will to visit the USA had been growing more and more. Two years ago I convinced my parents to realize this travel. Long story short the vacation was the greatest in my life and I made the decision to visit the USA for a much longer time in the future.

So my name is Quirin and Iôm a 15-year-old 10th grader from Germany. I live together with my dad and my mom any real reason. My brother is only at home at the weekend because heôs at a university. We live together with a cat and during the summer there are two horses on our property.

Especially in the warmer half of the year I make many different kinds of sports and try to get fit for my teams. The two sports I spend most of the time for are American football and soccer. After preparing for the next school day I often go to American football training. Soccer is a big part of my life since I was a little kid. But about three years ago my brother, my dad and I became attentive to American football. First we only watch the games but about two years ago I began playing as a receiver at a nearby football team. My whole family enjoys the Sundays which are reserved for watching football.

I also often ride my bicycle or I go to the fitness studio. But my parents only support all these activities if I fulfill my duties. Especially in the summer my whole family works together to clean up our property. My jobs are to cut the lawn and help my father stacking wood. But I think my most important job is to be good at school. Trying and learning something new is for me one of the most important things in life. That's the reason why I try to test as many sports and activities as I can. But my biggest experience will be at exchange here in the USA.

My purpose is to improve my English skills and you enjoyed the way of American living. I also want to be part of a new family in to take over the ideals of the region. I thank you for reading my letter because it's no naturalness to let an exchange student living one's family.

Yours Sincerely, Quirin
